

Thomas Ganslmayr

- M.Sc. honour degree in Geography (with economics & social anthropology)
- Professional experience in International organizations/ development work, retail, start up
- Experience in project management, key account management, market development, human resource development, change projects
- Additional training: change management, systemic coaching, organizational development, Constellation work, Stress management, career coaching, MBTI I & II certified

Focus of consulting and training work

- Supporting teams and companies in strategic and organizational changes
- Teambuilding
- Designing and moderating workshops and big group events
- Leadership development (developing, training, coaching)
- Trainings in project management, team development, intercultural communication, stress prevention, sales

My message

- Change is the only constant in life
- There are no singe posts at the crossroads of life (Charlie Chaplin)
- I enjoy helping people to discover their potential and passion
- There is always a solution

E-mail: ganslmayr@munichleadership.com